

HOW TO INVITE A FAMILY MEMBER TO VISIT

- If a family member wishes to visit you in Canada, they may be required to apply for a Temporary Resident Visa (TRV) or Electronic Travel Authorization (eTA) in order to enter Canada. To find out whether your family member is from a country whose citizens are required to obtain a TRV or eTA before they can enter Canada, please visit CIC's website at: <http://www.cic.gc.ca/english/visit/visas-all.asp>.
- A TRV will only be issued to your family member if they convince the immigration officer evaluating their application that they are coming to Canada for a temporary purpose. Your family member may submit documentation with their application to help show this, such as proof that they have a return airline ticket, sufficient funds to support themselves for the duration of their visit, and/or a confirmation of employment, to name a few examples. Your family member should consult the instructions for the visa office in their country of residence/citizenship for more information on required documents.
- You can also provide your family member with documentation that they can include with their TRV application that may assist them in showing that they are coming to Canada for a legitimate and temporary purpose. Such documents may include the following:
 - Enrolment Letter (see below);
 - Letter of Invitation (see below);
 - Copy of the picture page of your passport ; and
 - Copy of your Study Permit.
