Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls Awareness Day

Manitoba passed a bill in 2017 to proclaim Oct. 4 as Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls Awareness Day. Manitoba was the first province to proclaim Oct. 4 as an official day. Since the 1980s, more than 1,200 Indigenous women and girls have gone missing or been murdered. For decades now, families and loved ones have been calling for more recognition of the crisis.

We encourage you to familiarize yourself with the National Action Plan and the Progress Report, to find ways to honour those who are missing or have been murdered.

The Great Read Along

The Great Read Along is a collective movement across Canada to support young people with learning disabilities.

The goal is to come together to reach 6,000,000 minutes of reading across Canada! It's a simple and accessible challenge: register, choose a reading duration (15, 30, 45, or 60 minutes) and on October 22, read together. You can register individually, as a family, as a class or a team of co-workers - everyone is welcome!

You can register for free here.

There is no cost involved and teachers do receive a free activity kit for students. If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to reach out to Catherine Shae!
